

Special delivery

JENNY SWIGODA / TIMES PHOTOS

(Above) Attorney Jimmy Binns thanks police officers after a group of 75 police officers from the tri-state area delivered meals to the families of slain police officers on Dec. 23. Top left, Michelle Liczbinski, widow of Sgt. Stephen Liczbinski, greets police as they deliver holiday meals. At left, Caitlyn McNesby, 12, holds a present for John Pawlowski Jr. as his mother Kim holds him.

SANTA VISITS HOLMESBURG

PHOTOS COURTESY OF KAREN LASH

The Friends of Holmesburg Library, a volunteer group of community neighbors who raise funds for the library and promote the branch, hosted a pre-Christmas visit with Santa at the Holmesburg Library. More than 200 children visited with Santa and participated in free make-and-take holiday crafts. Santa read holiday stories and his volunteer elves provided bookmarks and candy canes to all children.

BRINGING CHRISTMAS TO LIFE

TOM WARING / TIMES PHOTO

The Lambie Funeral Home, at Rowland Avenue and Rhawn Street, recently hosted a live Nativity. The day featured live animals and Christmas music from the Holmesburg Baptist Christian Academy children's choir, the Father Judge High School Band and the St. Hubert drama club.